

Thomson Financial In Strategic Alliance with ATS Corporation Appix Subsidiary

NEW YORK, October 29, 2007 – Thomson Financial, an operating unit of The Thomson Corporation (TSX: TOC, NYSE: TOC) and a leading provider of information, news and technology solutions to the worldwide financial community, today announced a strategic alliance with Appix, a subsidiary of ATS Corporation (OTCBB: ATCT.OB), to offer Appix financial management software to the broker dealer market. Under terms of the agreement, Thomson Transaction Services (TTS) will integrate the Appix mortgage backed securities processing system into its main product TTSHost, and market it as TTSMortgage. TTS is one of the largest securities data-processing firms in the U.S., offering a comprehensive system for self-clearing and correspondent brokerage firms.

The TTS Mortgage integrated platform is a hosted solution within Thomson Transaction Service's brokerage processing solution. TTSMortgage streamlines the allocation process with direct connections to EPN (Electronic Pool Notification) and the straight through processing.

"The integration of the Appix product rounds out the solutions that TTS now offers to fixed income focused broker/dealers," said Mike Thibault, Director, Institutional and International Product Strategy, Thomson Financial. "We are enthused about how well the TTSMortgage solution complements our back office, repo processing, and fixed income trading products," said Thibault.

"This partnership enhances the TTS institutional offering by providing an integrated mortgage backed allocation system for pool allocations," said Gordon Fox, Managing Director, Thomson Transaction Services.

"Thomson's selection of our fixed income software validates that our product provides best in class inventory management and clearance capabilities to institutional investors," said ATSC Vice President Doug Starkey. "Additionally, our mortgage backed securities processing product contains operational and portfolio maximizing innovations used by our customers to considerably expand their business capabilities," said Starkey.

ATSC President and Chief Executive Officer Dr. Edward H. Bersoff added, "We are excited about the Appix-Thomson partnership. It will significantly extend our product offering into the broker dealer market and add an important application service provider dimension to our solution."
