

ATSC Announces Appix Cash Certified for Fedwire Funds Services

MCLEAN, VA – October 17, 2008, ATS Corporation (“ATSC”) (OTCBB: ATCT), today announced that Appix Cash, a leading cash settlements and management solution for wire desks, treasury operations, and capital market back offices, is certified for Fedwire Funds Service.

Fedline Direct offers financial institutions highly secure computer-to-computer critical payment services through an unattended Internet Protocol (IP)-based system utilizing IBM Websphere MQ software. Federal Reserve support for the previous SNA-CI based service expires December 31, 2008.

“The Fedline Direct Certification demonstrates our commitment to providing our financial customers with the highest level of quality and services, encompassing technology, functionality, and support,” said Doug Starkey, Vice President of the Appix Financial Services Platform division of ATSC.

Appix Cash, one of three Appix Financial Services Platform products, allows financial institutions to control and safely automate their cash settlement processes. Through its integration with upstream and downstream systems, it provides automated approval mechanisms to fully satisfy corporate governance and audit requirements. Appix Cash features Fedline Direct and SWIFT interface standards, supporting communications with the Federal Reserve Fedwire Funds Services as well as major clearing banks.
